In Lake County, Antioch Twp.

Country, rock concerts planned

by GLORIA DAVIS

It looks like Lake County and the Antioch area may be due for music under the sun and stars this summer, with a blue grass festival slated to be held at Rte. 173 and the tollway, on August 2 and permits being requested to hold a rock fest on Rte. 173 near Thelen's Gravel Pit, in Antioch Township, on either August 15 or 16.

Strahale Inc. are the promoters of the blue grass festival, scheduled to draw 5,000 people, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., to 100 acres owned by William Strahan, to listen to country music.

Clem Haley, Antioch, is listed on the permits granted by the Lake County Building and Zoning Commission, as one of the promoters.

For those those who like their music on the harder side, a mini-version of the famed Woodstock Rock Concert is scheduled to draw 15,000 rock fans to the property owned by William Zeigler, Round Lake, in the northwest corner of Lake County bordering on McHenry County.

Zeigler's application is at the present time in the hands of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., awaiting its okay that the concert will not be a safety, health or welfare hazard to the people of the surrounding communities.

This is the first step towards the compliance to 15 set requirements before Lake County will issue a permit saying that the concert may be held.

According to Bob Streicher of the Lake County Building and Zoning Dept., then the environmental health department must give their approval.

Sanitation and health checkups will be done on the day of the concert by that department.

If all requirements are met, the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. still has the last word and can even revoke a permit after the concerts have started, if they find sufficient reason to do so, says Streicher.

With kids and concerts notorious for the trouble they can bring to an area, the police and rescue squads in the municipalities surrounding both sites are making plans for traffic, safety, and crowd control.

Lake County Sheriff's Chief Deputy James Donaldson says, "We, along with the county board and the state attorney's office, are looking into traffic control, security outside the area, internal security and how many additional policeman it will take to handle the situation."

The decision of the sheriff's department is expected inside of two weeks.

The Lake County law enforcement officials are not the only ones concerned about both of these music festivals.

Since the location of both events border Kenosha and McHenry Counties and traffic to and from, plus any overflow, is expected to involve those counties, police from both counties are preparing plans of their own and also cooperative ones with Lake County.

McHenry County Under Sheriff E. J. (Chick) LaMagdeleine, talks about keeping in touch with Lake County and his department preparing itself as soon as permanent plans for the rock concert are made and they have an idea what they will be dealing with.

Kenosha County Sheriff Gerald Sonquist said, "We will make a concerted effort to cooperate with Lake County on any problems arriving before, during and after both of

Is hospital in future of Antioch?

Is there a full-service hospital in the future of Antioch or its nearby area? According to the administration of a Waukegan hospital that possibility does exist.

Less than a year after St. Therese Hospital, Waukegan, opened the St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite (STATS) to serve northwest Lake County, Victory Memorial Hospital, Waukegan, has announced future plans to construct a full-service, 150-bed hospital in the same area.

The location of this proposed medical facility will be based on additional studies, including input from local residents, said Don Wasson, Victory Hospital president.

Service of the people in the lakes area was also mentioned by Wasson.

The announcement was made to alert the state agencies involved that a filing for a certificate of need would follow in the near future.

The proposed facility comes in response to community needs, proposed growth and the fact that substantial travel time is now needed for residents of northwestern Lake County to reach existing full-service hospitals.

In speaking of the growth of the hospital's medical staff located in the northwestern part of the county, Wasson said, "We do know that 10 percent of our patients come from the Antioch area, so we obviously would want to serve that area. That doesn't mean that we would necessarily build there, however."

No target date has been set for the construction.

"We'll have a better idea of the time frame by the end of the summer," Wasson estimated.

If the health planning board approves the certificate of need application, the proposed hospital will offer the same services now available in Waukegan since Victory claims to have the staff, support services, financial and auxiliary resources for its development.

Good news in The News

Complex hearing

The meeting concerning the use of industrial revenue bonds to bring a shopping complex to the north side of Antioch, scheduled for Monday evening, June 15, at the village hall, is expected to draw a big crowd.

The expected heavy controversy between the village board, with Mayor Ray Toft at the helm, should draw some new and heated responses from both the residents and representatives of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

Art Fair

The Chamber's Arts, Crafts and Antiques Fair, slated for July 12, still has some booth openings.

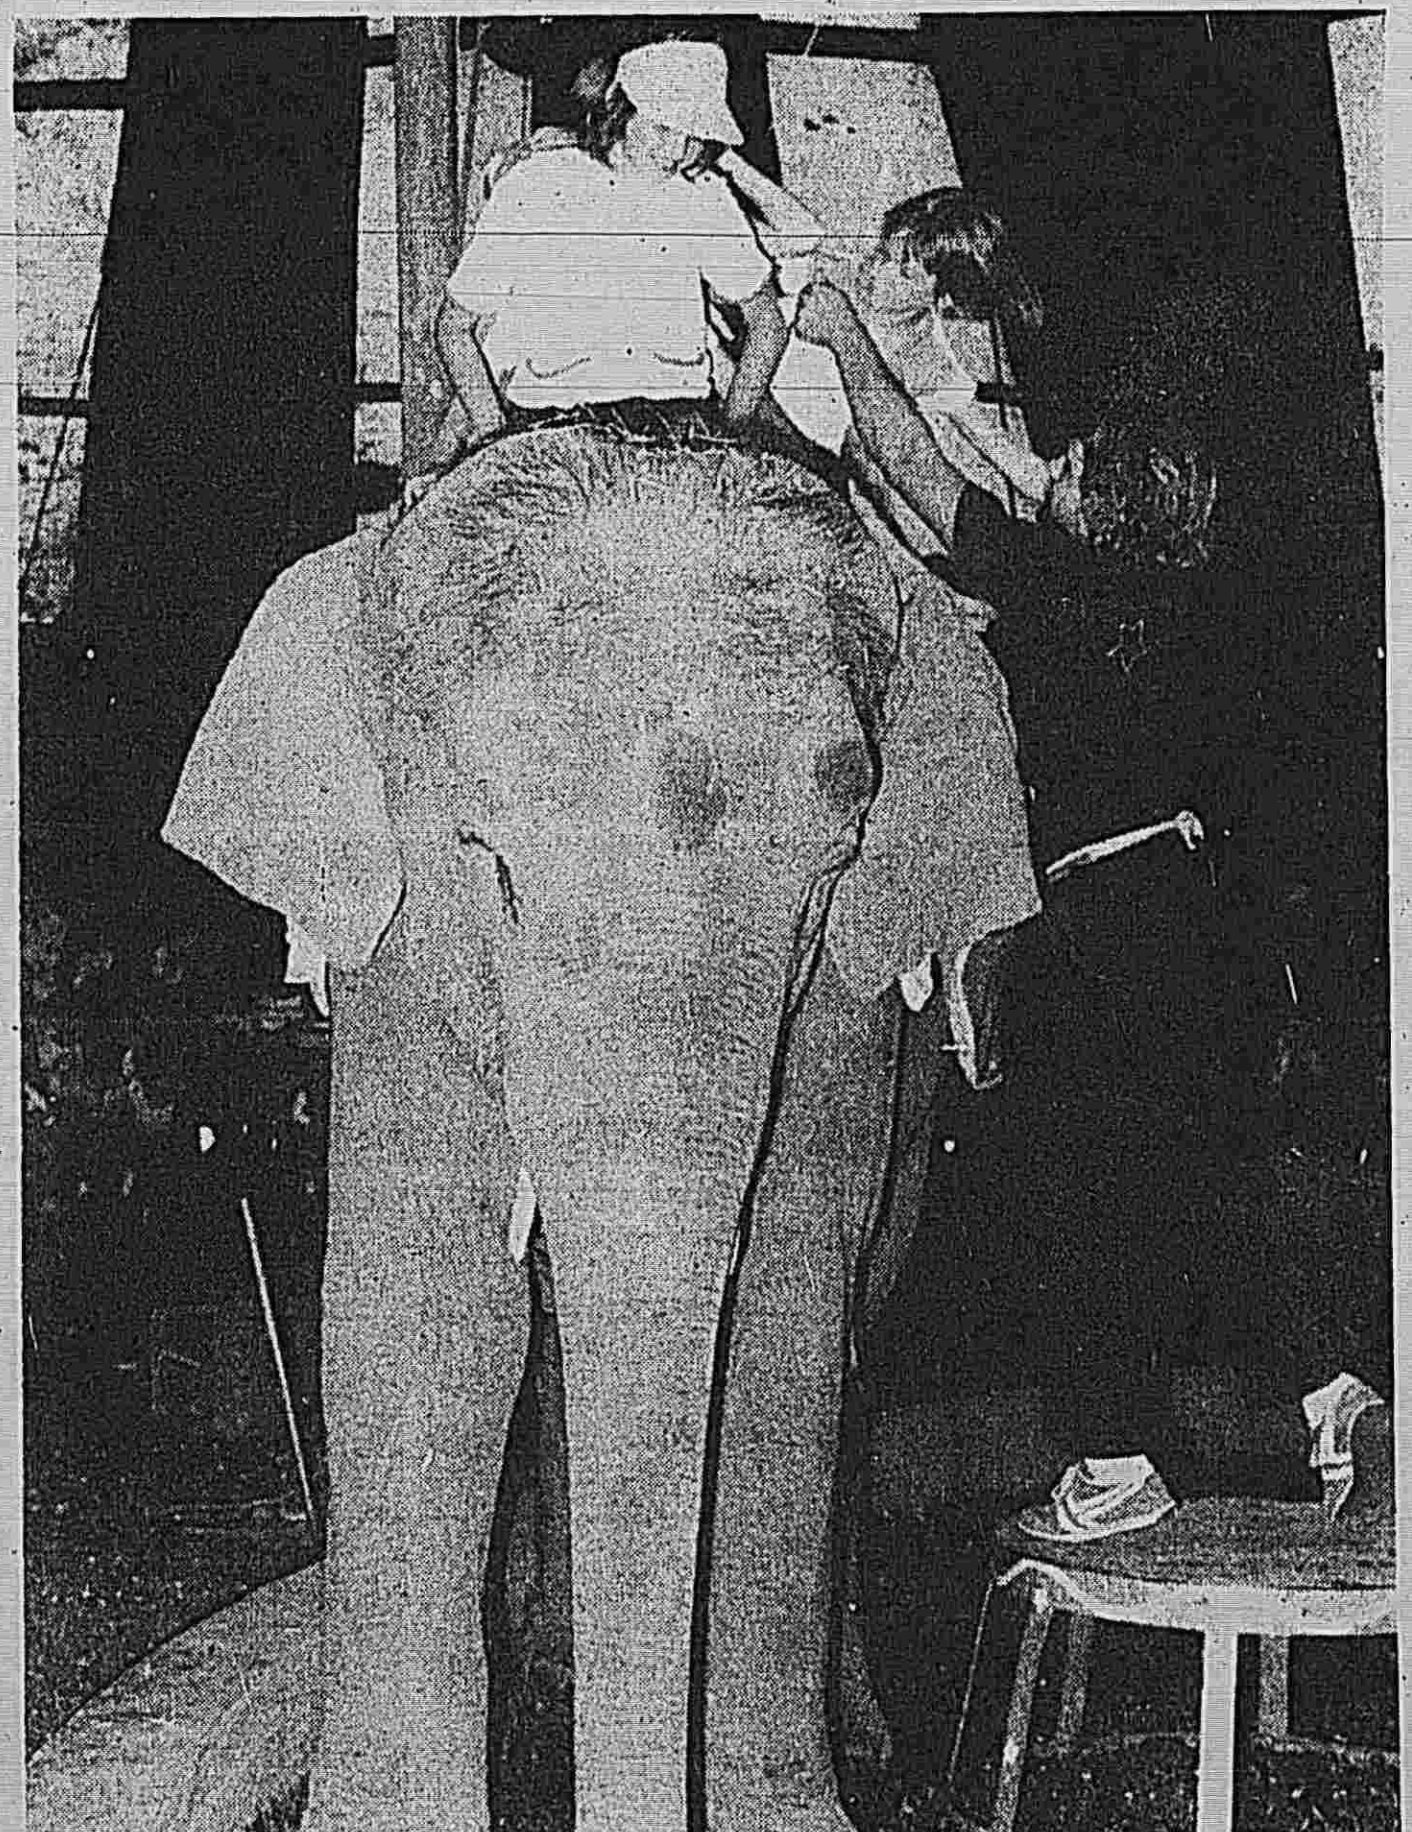

Those displaying their creative efforts will be eligible for $1,800 in awards.

Anyone interested in exhibiting may call Dixie Sparks, Chamber secretary, at 395-2233, for more information.

Fireworks

Claudette Skvarce, chairman of the Fourth of July celebration, has announced that there will be a full hour of fireworks, thanks to the donations of the Lions Club, businesses and other organizations and residents of Antioch.

The size of the Fourth's parade is increasing as more people and organizations are agreeing to participate.

Mattson goes to Denmark

Christine Mattson, 1981 Ambassador to Denmark, said goodbye to Chain-O'-Lakes 4H Club on Wednesday, June 10, at their regular meeting, held at Lotus School.

She spoke to the club about the International 4-H Youth Exchange Program, mentioning "it was a lot of work, but worth all of it."

She will be staying in Denmark for six weeks with three families. Upon her return she will be going to 4-H Clubs in Lake County to speak about her experiences there.

Project entry sheets will be filled out by club members for the fair, and tentative plans were made for the achievement show to be held July 7. Club members voted to bring a dish to pass, and their own service.

Low-interest loans available at ASL

Antioch Savings and Loan has joined the Lake County Housing Authority in a low interest rehabilitation loan program.

It is reported that this program is available to both low and high income borrowers for the purpose of housing rehabilitation in the designated target area.

Interest rates vary from six to nine percent, depending on the borrowers income.

Application for borrowing under this program is done through the Lake County Housing Authority. All qualified applicants are then forwarded to Antioch Savings and Loan where the loan is processed.

Bruce Adams, senior vice president, explained that Antioch Savings and Loan has always been interested in providing the funds necessary to rehabilitate housing, however, with mortgage rates at record levels, it has been impossible for borrowers to afford the monthly payments.

Football camp planned

Antioch area high school students will have the opportunity to attend the Antioch Morning Football Camp.

The camp will concentrate on fundamental game skills, offensive and defensive play calling and methods of conditioning. The fee for the three week program is $15.

Any questions should be directed to Steve Wapon, Antioch High School, 395-1421.

The program will be held Monday thru Friday, July 6 to July 24 and will meet 15 times.

The sophomore, junior, senior session will be held from 6:30-8 a.m. and the freshman session from 8:30-10 a.m.

Students that will be enrolled in any high school this fall may attend.

Equipment needed includes football shoes, workout gear, lock and towel.

FISHING NEWS

According to Ed Sorrenson, Sorrenson's Bait Shop, the fishing is good this week in Lake Marie with five or six walleyes being pulled in lately. The crappies are biting there too, most fishermen using small minnows for bait.

Holbek, Wessinger arrested on tax, drug charges

A Bristol man, Ronald Wessinger, 31, and a Camp Lake resident, raised in Antioch, Herman Holbek Jr., 31, pled not guilty to two counts each of tax evasion and 15 counts of drug dealing, at an arraignment in a Milwaukee District Court, on Monday June 1.

Both men were released after their indictment by the U.S. Attorney's office, on Wednesday, May 27, after posting 10 percent cash for $40,000 in bail bonds.

They are still out on bond pending their trial set for July 20 in Milwaukee District Court.

Wessinger and Holbek face a minimum of 10 years in prison without probation and a $290,000 fine on the above charges. Since they are also being charged under the "King Pin Statute," having to do with gaining a large income from a drug ring they are alleged to have organized, they also face another maximum sentence of life imprisonment and a $100,000 fine on this charge.

According to Asst. U.S. Atty. Charles Bohls, the two men allegedly distributed 11,000 pounds of marijuana, in southeastern Wisconsin, in the year following September, 1977.

The Kenosha County Sheriff's Dept. was brought into the case to aid state and federal agencies because of the area that Holbek and Wessinger were distributing drugs in.

Reports have the men owning and transporting marijuana, from rented residences in Florida, and in three motor homes, for distribution in Wisconsin and other cities in the United States.

Charges also state that, after reporting an income of less than $16,000 for the years of 1977-78, Wessinger is alleged to have actually had a taxable income of $143,222 for both years and Holbek, who paid no taxes during these years, earned $295,421 during this time span.

Wessinger was arrested on Wednesday, May 28, at his father's home in Bristol and Holbek was arrested the same day at a rented residence in Camp Lake Oaks.

Ida St. first for repairs

Soo Line Railroad plans to start the renovation of certain crossings in the village of Antioch, on Monday, June 15, have been changed.

The crossing on Rte. 83 was slated to be worked on first, allowing one lane traffic to go through. Plans now call for the closing of Rte. 83 completely during the renovation.

According to the Soo Line's Relief Road Master William Egerer, he has been unable to get Lake County liability releases signed by Kenosha County and Salem Township, the area through which Rte. 83 traffic would be rerouted, so the crossing on Ida St. will be renovated during the week of June 15 instead.

Egerer said that he has a meeting with the Kenosha County Highway Commissioner set for that Monday and hopes to get the letters claiming that neither Kenosha County or Salem Township would hold Lake County liable for any property damage or personal injuries resulting from the traffic rerouting.

Howard Gehrke, Salem Township chairman, says that he will go along with whatever the county does.

"We have to do Rte. 83 and North Ave. at the same time so the fixing of the crossing at Rte. 173 will have to wait until we get those letters from the county and the township before proceeding," said Egerer.

Carole gives both sides of K-Mart, senior housing

by CAROLE RISK

The proposed using of industrial bonds for the K-Mart Jewel Osco shopping center, that is being considered for Antioch, is arousing some strong feelings among area residents as attested to by the two page notice in the Antioch News by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, State Bank of Antioch, 1st National Bank of Antioch, Antioch Savings and Loan plus concerned citizens and businessmen from the area who are stating their position against the bonds being used this way.

Mark McKinney, president of the Chamber stated that the Chamber would not complain about the development if it was just a matter of competition. The feeling among most of the members was that the K-Mart Jewel-Osco would not attract customers that are seeking to purchase the quality products offered by most Antioch businesses.

But the Chamber does object to the use of the industrial revenue bonds for this project, because this type of financing is supposed to be used to generate and encourage businesses that not only return sales tax revenue to the community but also attracts people who want to work in Antioch and make it their home, thereby creating a need for housing or to fill existing housing, use our local banking facilities, buying from local retailers, joining and donating to local community groups etc., thus benefitting the entire community.

It is the Chamber of Commerce contention that this type of financing, which would save the developer five percent in interest, is not necessary for the nation's number two retailer.

McKinney said that the complex will locate here regardless of the bonds being given to them, because these retailers know Antioch is a good location and that it is going to provide a good market for their merchandise.

On the other side the village would like very much to bolster the sagging sales tax revenues. Though $42,700,000 was spent in the fiscal year of 1979 to 1980 in the village, of which the village is entitled to one percent or $2,136,939.

This year, from 1980 to 1981, the revenues collected were down a good deal, partially due to depressed auto sales.

This one percent in sales tax revenue is what supports Antioch, not individual property taxes, so it is understandable that the village government is anxious to have the shopping center located within its borders as they wish to maintain the present level of services without the raising of cost or any cutbacks in benefits for individual taxpayers.

The village has a good point when it notes that if the shopping center locates outside of the village limits, Antioch and the surrounding area is still going to have all the problems but reap none of the benefits.

The township government does not have the power to levy a tax on retail profits. If the shopping center is located in the township Antioch would still have to spend money for the additional burden of people using village facilities, but the village would not be able to replace the funds spent with sales tax revenues.

By using the industrial revenue bonds as a lure Antioch can offer the developer a financing arrangement that could be too advantageous to pass up, guaranteeing the village the money that it would need to handle the additional flow of people.

It is a relief to many people that the proposed HUD project for Antioch is being given a hard second look.

Most senior citizens had the impression that this is housing for them and that it is to be a development similar to Cedar Village, Lake Villa's senior housing.

Not so, all federal funds for senior housing only, have been used up for an indefinite period of time.

Lake Villa was fortunate in that some of the last money released for senior housing was allocated to them.

Congratulations to David Heath on his appointment to highway commissioner's post, he was fielding requests and complaints like an old pro at the township board meeting June 11.

Lillian Golanka, resident of North Loon Lake, was appointed by the township board to fill Heath's position as township trustee.

Most women will be happy to have the feminine political viewpoint represented and being a resident of the North Loon Lake area Golanka should have a good understanding of some of the problems that the unincorporated areas within the township have to contend with.

these concerts."

Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller said that his department will cooperate with state and county police to secure the routes to and from the area slated for the rock concert.

He adds that his department will also be prepared for out-of-towners that will probably filter through to the village and its establishments.

Zeigler's office said that they hope to release more information as soon as he returns from a vacation on July 1.

The Time Machine

50 YEARS AGO: JUNE 18, 1931

The liquor charge brought against Ray Pregoner when federal agents made a raid upon his resort recently was dropped because of insufficient evidence as the raid had been made without a warrant. Federal agents, while searching for a wildcat brewery in the Grass Lake region, stopped to rest at Pregoner's and discovered a glass of beer on the bar.

Wisconsin recently began enforcing a new piece of legislation providing that all motor trucks from other states must have Wisconsin license plates. Many arrests were made. Illinois retaliated by arresting drivers of Wisconsin trucks. Illinois stands ready to agree on an "armistice" but Wisconsin refused to enter into the agreement, with the result that the "war" continues. Inasmuch as approximately three times as many Wisconsin trucks are being driven into Illinois as Illinois trucks are driven into Wisconsin, it appears that the Wisconsin operators will suffer the most.

Louis Forbich, a farmer near Lake Marie for over thirty years, was killed yesterday morning, when he was attacked by an enraged bull.

The largest food store advertisement ever published in the News appears today. The Antioch store of the A & P Company, which has been under the management of P.E. Chinn continuously since its establishment here several years ago, is accounted one of the company's best rural stores in the entire Chicago district.

Art Kassel and his radio "Kassels in the Air" will come to the Twin Lakes Ballroom Saturday, June 20, to play for their numerous radio and record fans.

30 YEARS AGO: JUNE 21, 1951

More than 1,200 persons visited the Merry-Go-Round bakery on Lake St., Saturday on the occasion of the farm's grand opening. Six sales girls were busy throughout the day waiting on the customers. The firm gave cake knives to each visitor. Other gifts were three dozen Paddy Pig cookie jars, six cor-sages and six decorated cakes.

Principal R.C. Edmundson of Antioch Township High School announced that Paul W. Kessenich will teach biology, serve as head football coach and assistant baseball coach at the high school. Stanley Klonowski has been employed to teach in the business education department.

Enrollment in Vocational agriculture at the Antioch Township High School for next autumn is so small that the board of education is considering omission of that subject until there is a greater demand.

Three bidders submitted prices on a squad car for Antioch Policemen. The Antioch Garage submitted prices of seven cars ranging from $1,984 to $2,566. The Antioch Nash submitted prices of $1,800 and $2,100 with extra for certain accessories. The R and J Chevrolet submitted a price of $1,597 and $2,116. Heater and defroster were extra.

10 YEARS AGO: JUNE 17, 1971

Lee Gustafson has been hired by the Antioch Community High School Board of Education to replace Joseph Rush as instrumental director in the high school.

Applications for the Eisenhower 1871 Silver Dollar are available at the post office, the two banks and the savings and loan, Robert Carter, postmaster, said.

Band Director George Olisar puts the Antioch Grade School Band through its final rehearsals preparatory to its departure today for Washington when it will present a concert on steps of the House of Representatives. The band will play also at veterans's hospital.

Real home-town booster

Mrs. Sandra (Sandi) Grcic, winner of the first $10 given away in The Antioch News "Why I Like To Shop Antioch" contest, is an Antioch booster all the way.

Upon presentation of the check, Mrs. Grcic immediately turned it over to the Antioch Mental Health Society. Photo and actual letter appear on Page 10 of this week's News.

"I just love my town. I can't understand why anyone would not be pleased living or shopping in Antioch," Sandi declared.

Mrs. Grcic and her husband, Mladen (Mike), reside at Channel Lake where they own and operate the Brauhaus, a lounge and eating place. They are the parents of a son, 11, and a daughter, 15.

Besides helping her husband weekends in the family business and taking care of her family, Mrs. Grcic is employed full-time at Abbott Laboratories as a project control clerk in the computer service department.

The Grcics came to the Antioch area five years ago after living in Des Plaines and Chicago.

The move here enabled them to settle in a smaller suburban community and give Mike the opportunity to go into business. He is a machinist and pattern maker by trade, but always wanted to be in a business dealing with people.

If Antioch can fill family shopping needs, Sandi always patronizes local businesses.

"I wouldn't think of anything else. I only shop elsewhere for things not available in our town," she emphasized.

The Antioch News is urging readers of The News to participate in the "Why I Like To Shop Antioch" contest. Letters selected for publication will be awarded $10. It's an attitude worth recognizing and promoting.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Is that familiar face seen behind the bar at Blarney Island the same one that used to preside over the board meetings in Antioch?

Goodie! Two of my favorite characters are coming to town. Hamburglar and Capt. Crook will both be in Antioch's Fourth of July Parade.

I see where our high school was well represented at the Western Illinois Youth Conservation Workshops, held at that university. Participating last week were Richard Kuehn, Carol Blecke, Janice Wolf, Michelle Patts and Sheri Frydrychowicz.

I've heard of the Flying Dutchman but this is a new one. Antioch News Publisher Bill Schroeder got quite a surprise as he walked through the village last week when two diapers came flying out of a window at him.

The Department of the Navy informs me that Navy Electronics Technician 1st Class Michael E. Jones, who is married to Eleanor and Joseph Koch's little girl Linda, just completed an advanced cryptographic equipment maintenance course in California.

Speaking of the military, Army Pvt. Ricky Roberts, a 1978 ACHS graduate, just finished 12 weeks of advanced weaponry training at Fort Benning, Ga.

Grownups enjoying the circus last week, almost outnumbered the children. Saw Sue Haley and Glenda Tomaschik wolfing down almost as much popcorn and candy cotton as their kids were.

Tell me, did Dixie Sparks really ride the elephant? That's what I hear and I'm really sorry that I left early if she did.

Note to Cluadette Skvarce, Annie Mae will be the first to volunteer to work in the kissing booth at the Fourth of July celebration.

Congrats to Michael Ware, who not only graduated cum laude from the University of Wisconsin-Parkside, but also got a certificate of merit for academic excellence and the Student Organization Service award for his service as the president of the UWP Industrial and Environmental Hygiene.

Ware is currently employed as an environmental coordinator at Printing Developments Inc., Racine.

More "brainy" congrats go to Julie Kiemle, daughter of Dietrich and Nancy Kiemle. Julie, a senior in communications has been named to the Deans List at Trinity College, Deerfield.

Strawberry Festival set

The Pioneer Senior Citizens Club's Annual Strawberry Festival is to be held on Saturday, June 27 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

It will be on the lawn of the Masonic Temple, 5613 Broadway, Richmond.

In case of rain it will be held inside of the temple.

A bake sale is also being planned.

Strawberry shortcakes and sundaes and dishes of strawberries, hot dogs, beef bar-b-que sandwiches, coffee and pop will be sold on the premises.

Being located in the midst of the antique shops, visitors to the festival can also enjoy browsing these.

The club was organized in 1970. The first Strawberry Festival was held in 1972 which was the year of Richmond's bi-centennial celebration.

It has been a fund raising project each year since then.

The club has approximately 80 members who are senior citizens from towns bordering north and south of the Illinois-Wisconsin border.

The club donates to the rescue squad and other organizations that are helpful to senior citizens.

Any questions contact Beth Rieck, publicity - 414-279-5158, Verona Nies, chairwoman - 414-877-2767 or Prudence Eberhardt, president - 815-678-4364.

Softball tournies planned

Dug Out Park in Trevor has set the dates for two more softball tournaments. On June 20 and 21 will be a women's 16 inch tournament.

It is a double elimination tourney with an entry of $75 and one game ball.

There are sponsor trophies, traveling expense and champion t-shirts.

On June 27 and 28 will be a 12 Inch June Tournament for class "D" men's teams.

It is a consolation tournament with each team guaranteed two games. Entry is $80 and there are sponsor trophies, traveling expense and champion t-shirts. There are limited openings.

For more information call Tom Furlan at 414-862-9136 or 395-5788.

The park is located on Hwy. 83 two miles north of the Illinois state line.

When I think about it Gloria: 'Tennis anyone?'

by GLORIA DAVIS

A look at the calendar, the sight of dozens of jars of instant ice tea and hundreds of packets of lemonade mix on the supermarket shelves and the long ques in front of the Dairy Queen, all indicate that the good old summertime has arrived.

Most of all the summer sun lights up the stage for outdoor sporting action, demanding various sized and shaped props and many distinctive costumes.

The dialogue called for, by the sun-lit action script, is one made up of many four letter words: fore-darn!; love-damn!; safe (other unprintable epithets)!

So, always a joiner, I decided to venture in to the tan and healthy world of tennis.

I dug out the racket I had in high school and, even though the old wood and cat gut didn't have the shine of the aluminum one of Billie Jean's, that turned out to be just another thing that Ms. King and myself didn't have in common, so on to the next bit of preparation.

What to wear? Now you just don't see Gussie Moran's lacey pants or Navratolova's chic tennis outfits on the courts in Wilmet, cutoffs or jogging shorts being the costume of the local cement courts.

Since the only time that I would appear in public in short shorts is about an hour before dawn and tennis partners that are willing to play at that time are none too plentiful, I settled for my trusty baggy jogging suit.

To my surprise I managed to get the ball over the net once or twice and even placed a few serves in that small square that leared at me diagonally.

I've always been romantically inclined and found it sort of nice that someone was continually yeling love at me from across the court.

I didn't even mind that this was the word destined to be a consistent description of my end of the score.

To tell the truth, what really hurt was the pain!

I coped quite well with the blisters that popped up on my hands and feet the first day and I knew that the pain I encountered as it took me 15 minutes to get out of bed the day after, was the natural result of straining muscles heretofor unused.

The second time I played, I tripped and fell flat on the entire front of my body, while trying for a net ball, skinning myself from head to toe.

But I healed in a little over a week and, since I couldn't sing like Dinah and the chances of my having an affair with Burt Reynolds were on the slim side, I decided that one out of three would be acceptable, so I headed for the courts again.

The result of the next set played was a two day limp caused by a whack on the knee with the edge of the racket during an enthusiastic overhead shot.

Then there was the week of eating off of the mantle after a back-pedaling chase landed me squarely on my toosh.

I didn't mind driving with my head out of the sun roof of my car and that nice policeman didn't give me a ticket because he couldn't find any law against standing behind the wheel.

This brings you up to date on my netted adventures and let me tell you, perserverance has really paid off.

I'm winning at least one game out of six and lately my injuries are minimal.

Now, with one down, I may practice on my singing and, who knows, the airlines are having a special on trips to Los Angeles, I hear Burt is at loose ends again.

25 year members honored by Women of the Moose

The WOTM of Officers Chapter Night Program was called to order by Senior Regent Louise Gutowski with all officers present.

This meeting was held in the honor of this year's 25 year members. Guides escorted the honored guests to the altar where they received a gift as Recorder Judy Page recalled "moments to remember" for each one. Twenty-five year members so honored were: Gert Lorenz, Jerri Polson, Gulia Bolton, Veronica Galbeck, and Estelle Palke.

Academy of Friendship members Rose Robinson and Carole Deutsch received their receipt of membership and Judy Kelly received a Chapter check for expenses as she goes to Louisiana to receive her cap and gown.

Edna Kramer received her Chapter pin for attending for attending three consecutive meetings. The Slate of officers for the new year is as follows: Senior Regent Terry Smallwood; Junior Graduate Regent Louise Gutowski; Junior Regent Anne Byczek; Chaplain Betty Dahlke; Treasurer Marilyn Vynalek; Recorder Judy Page.

Practice session at the Moose Lodge were on Wednesday May 17 for all new officers, appointed officers, chairmen, escorts and installation officers to prepare for the WOTM inStallation of officers to be held June 20.

On May 18, the last meeting of this year, following tradition, Senior Regent Louise Gutowski will receive her scrapbook and pictures of all yearly functions which has been put together by the Publicity Committee. As Louise has done such a fantastic job as our "Senorita" this year, we would like all our members to attend this meeting and share in these memories.

Our annual Father's Day Potato Pancake breakfast will be held on June 21 starting at 9 a.m. Please bring Dad in early this Sunday, and all Grandpas and Great-grandpas, too. The kitchen crew will start Saturday morning, peeling potatoes and other things.

THIS IS A PRACTICE PEAK ALERT. FOR THE REAL THING, LISTEN TO YOUR RADIO.

MR. AND MRS. CARL ABBS

An open house was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Abbs in Deming, N.M., celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary.

Carl and Edna (nee Reeves) were married in the Methodist Church in Corona, Calif. on April 11, 1931. They have three children, Ed (Betty) Abbs, Wildwood; Sue Denny, Wadsworth; Jenny (Mike) Fletty, Rosemount, Minn. They also have nine grandchildren.

Coming east from California, they lived for a few years in Pewaukee, Wis., then moved into the Antioch area where they lived for several years before settling down in Wadsworth.

Abbs retired from OMC Johnson in Feb., 1971.

If today were a real Peak Alert, we'd be on the radio asking you to conserve as much electricity as you could between 9 a.m. and 10 p.m., when the use of air-conditioning is greatest.

To keep your home at 78 degrees, no lower. (The colder you make it, the more electricity your air-conditioner has to use.)

To postpone washing, drying or ironing clothes during the day.

To cook outdoors if you possibly can.

To vacuum early or not at all.

To read a book instead of watching a lot of TV.

To run your dishwasher after you go to bed.

To take a shower instead of a bath. (A bath uses more hot water and makes your electric water heater work overtime.)

Anything you can add to the list would be greatly appreciated.

Now, the world isn't going to come to an end if you don't conserve. Your electric bill is just going to go up.

For instance. Say we have three or four scorchers back to back and everybody turns the air-conditioning on full blast.

When you add that to the normal daily demand for electricity, it's easy to run short. Unless we start every backup power plant that's available, regardless of how small or how old.

Worse yet, some of them use awfully expensive fuels, like oil. Which means the cost of producing each extra kilowatthour of electricity goes up to more than 14 cents. That's 18 times more than our nuclear generators can do it for, and the extra fuel costs get passed along to you in the fuel adjustment charge on your electric bill.

Besides, if everybody can just cut down a little on Peak Alert days, we won't have to build as many new plants in the years ahead. And they're a big reason for rate increases in general.

So in peak demand periods, we'll go on the radio to warn everybody that we're having a Peak Alert and it's time to conserve every way they can.

It pays. If we all conserve, we all save.

In case you need practice, make a dry run today.

Don't take tomorrow for granted.

BENEFITS SCHOOL

The Grove School for multiple handicapped, will hold its sixth annual Mostaccioli and Sausage Dinner on Sunday, June 28, from noon through 7 p.m. at the Highwood Community Center, 428 Greenbay Road, Highwood. As usual the Chief Chef will be Mrs. Rina Castelli.

LINING PUTT UP — Louise Santino carefully lines up her putt as Joan Casey, secretary of the State Bank of Antioch Women's Golf League, studies her form on the second green at Harbor Ridge Country Club Tuesday. Louise and Eileen Zannini both had only 14 putts for the round and tied for the league's low number of putts for the day.

Less putting for Santino, Zannini

The rain held off just long enough for the members of the State Bank of Antioch Women's Golf League to complete their second round of the season at Harbor Ridge Country Club Tuesday.

The special prizes event of the day was for low putts and was won by Louise Santino and Eileen Zannini, Class A, with 14; Ginny Cornelius, class B, with 16; Louise Voc, class C, with 18; and Nancy Zitkus, class D, with 18.

Two teams share top honors with nine and one half points, team 1, Joan Casey, Esther Jacobsen, Louise Vos, and Elma Ellis; and team 9, Eileen Zannini, Lorriane Hitchon, Ann St. Pierre, and Lorriane Santi.

In second place with eight points is team 4, Delores Scarpelli, Henrietta Albergo, Lorriane Stieber, and Delores Abderholden.

Re: Why I Like to Shop in Antioch.

Dear Sirs and Ladies:

The stores in Antioch have most anything you could want and you can usually find it here first. Every time I go into The Carousel, I can almost always find what I am looking for. Their clothes are quality and prices are reasonable. Hooray for Carousel! I have bought umpteen pairs of shoes and boots from The Shoe Box. Sorry they're not here anymore. BJ's and Stanley's are A #1 in men's clothing. I've spent a few bucks on my hubby in both places!

I love the way our shopping areas are set up with Lake, Main and Orchard streets arranged in a "town square". In my opinion, it adds variety as well as convenience for shoppers. In what other nearby town do you see this?

The most important reason I like to shop in Antioch is the readiness of the merchants to help you out. To site an example, I needed a pair of dress slacks for my son (emergency situation) in April, so I thought first of Four Squires where I have been previously satisfied. Sure enough, I walked in and started looking. It wasn't a couple of minutes when one of the clerks was asking me if she could help. I told her what I needed and she found it. My son tried the slacks on and they fit, but I needed them hemmed, immediately. She said to come back in fifteen minutes to pick them up. In the meantime, I stopped to pick up my daughter from Suforma's and to put gas in the car. (Everything within yards and minutes of each other). I believe it was to the minute when I came back and there she was, walking back to the store from the cleaners (Haley's) with the slacks done! Where else could you get service like that in an emergency? I think most people can think back on an experience similar also. Hooray for Four Squires! These are just a few examples of mostly all good experiences I've had shopping in Antioch. I love this town! Hooray for Antioch!

Sincerest Regards,

Sandi G.
